

James Bardenhagen
of Michigan

James Bardenhagen, a farm industry appointee who also grows specialty crops, runs his family farm, Bardenhagen Farms, growing apples, cherries, potatoes, hay, and small grains in Suttons Bay, Michigan. James was a Michigan State University Extension Director in Leelanau County for 20 years though he remains active on committees and has served on the Farm Service Agency County Committee most recently. James has been a crop insurance customer for about 13 years.