The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation Board of Directors approved the Hybrid Seed Rice (HSR) insurance program, a privately developed product that was submitted and approved under section 508(h) of the Federal Crop Insurance Act in May 2015. The HSR program provides coverage for the production of seed stock, which provides seed to producers. HSR will be available in certain Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas counties and is designed similar to other hybrid seed crop insurance programs currently available.
