Conservation Compliance Statement D - Producers who Began Farming for the First Time after June 1

Background

Section 2611 of the Agricultural Act of 2014 (2014 Farm Bill), enacted on February 7, 2014, links eligibility for Federal crop insurance premium subsidy paid by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) to the Highly Erodible Land Conservation (HELC) and Wetland Conservation (WC) compliance provisions of the Food Security Act of 1985. For the 2016 reinsurance year, producers were required to have a completed and signed form AD-1026 on file with the Farm Service Agency (FSA) on or before June 1, 2015. Failure to file an AD-1026 by this deadline results in loss of eligibility for premium subsidy for the 2016 reinsurance year, unless an exemption applies. One such exemption is if the producer began farming for the first time after June 1.

Risk Management Agency (RMA) previously released PM-15-032 containing Conservation Compliance procedures that provide guidelines for documenting that a producer qualifies for the “began farming for the first time after June 1” exemption. The procedures contain three certification statements (labeled A, B, and C) producers can sign to document qualification for this exemption. Situations have arisen suggesting these exemption statements may not address certain individuals who should be considered to have begun farming for the first time after June 1, and had no reason to file an AD-1026 by June 1, 2015. These include individuals who were listed as a Substantial Beneficial Interest holder (SBI) on a policy, but were not considered an affiliated person required to file an AD-1026 by FSA on or prior to June 1. Some common examples include: (1) a widow/widower following the death of a previously insured spouse holding a spousal policy; (2) a former member of a previously insured non-individual entity such as a trust, estate, etc., following the entity’s dissolution; and (3) an individual, who was formerly an SBI on another policy, following the initial acquisition of land via purchase, non-spousal inheritance, etc.

Action

RMA is adding “Statement D” that applies to an individual (including a spouse) who may or may not have been part of another legal entity engaged in farming prior to July 1 proceeding the applicable reinsurance year, who was an SBI to a policyholder subject to the HELC or WC provisions, but who was not required to complete an AD-1026 by FSA as an affiliated person on or prior to June 1. Individuals who qualify for Statement D who have an active policy during the 2016 reinsurance year at the issuance of this memorandum, can complete and sign this statement prior to June 1, 2016, to maintain eligibility for premium subsidy on such policies for the 2016 reinsurance year.
